Public Relations / Marketing / Social Media

Sarah Wadle is a dynamic and resourceful leader who creates energizing communications solutions that help individuals, companies and organizations develop new opportunities and establish brand recognition and credibility in the marketplace. She is the founder of the Connecticut based PR and marketing agency, First Position Media. Over the years of branding businesses and organizations, Sarah has uncovered a need for individuals to learn more about how to understand their very own personal brands and how to differentiate themselves to stand out from competition, communicate more effectively in team environments and gain confidence. She pursued How To Fascinate® and is now a Fascinate Certified Advisor working with a variety of clients (CEOs to students) to understand and develop their own personal brands for communications success.

Background: In addition to working in the financial services industry for over 15 years, Sarah expanded her marketing experience building public relations, marketing and social media campaigns for various organizations in the financial services, marine trade, personal wellness, performing arts, beauty, fashion and wine industries. She has strong connections and relationships with traditional media editors, reporters and bloggers as well as first-hand experience managing Facebook, Twitter and blogs for companies.

Sarah is a tenured business professional with 20+ years' experience in finance and marketing. She has worked in highly visible roles at global financial services firms, helping cross-functional teams in sales, marketing, administration and technology to drive revenue growth. Sarah's passion for technology implementation, facilitation and training others has been a constant source of personal success and gratification throughout her career. Her meticulous attention to detail and an instinctive knowledge of marketing trends provide focus to her clients on multiple levels.

Sarah donates time to various charitable organizations including Community Foundation of Middlesex County, Community Music School, and more. She is a member of The Shoreline Network of Communications Professionals and practices continuing education through various offerings from the International Association of Business Communicators.

Sarah resides in Ivoryton, CT with her husband, Jim, and their two children; Chelsea and John, where they are active in the community. Spending time with family and friends is paramount and Sarah's passion for great music, dance, theater and outstanding culinary experiences lead to wonderful journeys exploring the Eastern Seaboard.

Testimonials

"She put her whole heart into every project and left no stone unturned in her quest to secure PR for her clients....I appreciate her no-fluff, direct approach; it serves her clients well too."

-Jenny Finke, Founder and CEO, Red Jeweled Media (PR Agency)

"Always on the cutting edge of communications technologies, Sarah is not only able to do, but also teach her clients to use these skills on a sustainable basis. She is a hard and focused worker who thinks beyond the four corners of "the box" and is never afraid to confront obstacles."

- Mary Barneby, CEO Girl Scouts of CT
Formerly affiliated through UBS Financial Services

"She has the rare talent of listening to her clients, understanding their business, professional goals and bringing their vision to life. She kept our projects on task and made sure that all the timelines were coordinated. I have the utmost respect and admiration for her talents..."

- Nancy Jablonski, Owner, Audiology Concierge

"Like the best of dance (and business) partners, there are times she leads and other times, she's content to move to the music and lose herself in the moment!"

- Brett Raphael, Artistic Director and CEO, Connecticut Ballet

"Sarah exceeded my expectations in launching press and exposure for a major Hollywood level feature film that I recently produced. By utilizing clever ideas ingrained within a traditional framework, the outreach and scope was tremendous. I cannot imagine making another film without First Position Media at the helm of the publicity."

-David Gere - Producer
